

Remote Backup & Recovery

The USC Backup and Recovery Service provides secure local and remote data backup with a quick disaster recovery solution. Our monthly subscription backup service replicates data offsite to multiple data centers. This local and remote data storage offers security with the ability for a quick recovery.

Our monthly data backup subscription includes free support for two transmission based recoveries or “instances” per month. Or you can also restore your important data yourself without affecting the two free support instances. Additionally, we will be happy to assist you with non-transmission based data recovery such as creating and shipping data via external devices for an hourly fee.
